The Solemnity of the Most Holy Trinity

June 4th, 2023

Let's
Pray
Together

For all the peoples of earth, the children of the God who loves us: May we learn to live with each other in harmony and peace.

We pray to the Lord.

For the people of God, who are called together in the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ: May all who share one Baptism find communion in the Holy Spirit.

We pray to the Lord.

For those who are completing their studies, preparing for exams, or transitioning to a new place of study or work: May the peace of God fill their hearts.

We pray to the Lord.

For a true and lasting peace, beginning in our own hearts, and expanding to embrace all people.

We pray to the Lord.

For the sick and suffering members of our Parish family, and most especially for those who have been commended to our prayers through our Parish Prayer Ministry.

We pray to the Lord.

For our brothers and sisters who have died in Christ, and for the family members and friends who mourn their passing and await their rising.

We pray to the Lord.

[Moses said,] "If I find favor with you,
Lord, please, Lord, come along in our company."

EXODUS 34:9

God Up There, God Down Here

FR. JOSEPH JUKNIALIS

Which of these images best describes your God: gardener, friend, policeman, Santa Claus, magician, doctor, lover, parent, judge, the Force?

Theologically, God is both transcendent and immanent, up there and down here. In other words, God is powerful, majestic, awesome, and all-knowing but always close, caring for us, forgiving, and comforting. Most of us lean toward one or the other in our spirituality. Whichever image you choose will tell you something about how you usually relate to God. None of the images are necessarily right or wrong unless it locks us into relating to God in only one way.

Our tendency to relate to God as either transcendent or immanent may influence our preference for liturgical style. If we view God primarily as transcendent, we will tend to appreciate the Mass as a sacrifice, celebrated formally with processions, incense, and majestic music.

If we tend to relate to God as more immanent, we will tend to appreciate the Mass as a eucharistic meal with the community gathered around the altar table singing simpler music. As God is both transcendent and immanent, we should not have to choose. The ideal liturgical style would incorporate something of both transcendence and immanence.

Today's story of Moses, who climbs Mount Sinai and there bows down in worship before God, is a story of the transcendence of God—majestic, powerful, awesome to behold. Today's gospel is of an immanent God who loved the world so much that he sent his Son, not to condemn it but to save it. ●

Reflect

Is your personal prayer to God "up there"
or to God "walking with me"?
